

MURDERED IN HIS CABIN.

An Old Man Struck and Robbed of His Little Savings.

GLENSWOOD, Iowa, Jan. 1.—An old man named Shelly has been keeping a small store about four miles north of Malvern, in this county. Sunday some of his neighbors visited his place, and found that he had been murdered. He had been struck with a blow on the head with an ax, which was left near him. Either of the blows would have caused instant death. He was partially dressed, and from other indications it would seem that he had been called upon during the preceding night after having retired, and had admitted some one to his cabin, and that while seated at the fire the assassin had struck the fatal blow from behind. The assailant is shrouded in mystery, as it was not known that the old man had an enemy, and it was generally known that he was a poor man. Robbery is supposed to have been the motive, however, as his watch and revolver were taken, together with a small sum of money. The excitement near the scene of the murder is intense.

Caught in Time.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 1.—About noon some men employed in the yards of the Keystone Coal Elevator noticed a woman on the railing of the Newport bridge, and called to her to get back. She obeyed, and before she could make a second attempt to jump strong arms entangled her. She proved to be Susie Materson, twenty, of corner Madison and Sprague streets, Newport, where she lives with her stepfather. She said she tried to jump into the river, and that she would do so again. The poor creature is evidently insane. She will be returned to her home.

A FEW FARMS.

Anticipated Trouble for the Land Grant Railroads.

NEW YORK, Jan. 1.—A Washington special says: The House Committee on Public Lands will next week report bills to forfeit the land grants of certain railroad companies, amounting to some 15,000,000 acres. The Texas & Pacific grant, which is one of those expected to be forfeited, contains 14,000,000 acres alone.

English Labor Troubles.

MANCHESTER, Jan. 1.—The mill operatives are greatly disappointed in failing to receive the support they had reason to expect from other sections of England, and the end of the strike seems very near. The mill collapse entirely within a few days, unless assistance comes from some unexpected source. The operators have been obliged to appoint a committee to solicit contributions for the support of the strikers.

A Very False Prophet.

CAIRO, Jan. 1.—Letters from El Mahdi to his adherents have been intercepted by Baker Pasha, which prove the False Prophet intends to invade Egypt proper, and that the rebellion practically extends as far as the Kossier district in lower Egypt. Baker Pasha is much alarmed at the outlook.

A Wholesale Robbery Stopped in the Bud.

CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 1.—Every train on the Bee Line express Monday morning from Columbus was armed to the teeth in expectation of meeting an organized band of express robbers, who were reported the night before as ready to board the train. The band number five desperadoes led by Big Kelly, who was captured near Columbus Monday morning. He told of the proposed robbery while drunk, and his gang, learning of this, abandoned the proposed attack.

A Chicago Fire.

CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 1.—The building 102 to 107 Van Buren street was partially destroyed by fire Monday night. Gannon & McGraw, furniture manufacturers, lost some $30,000 on stock; Frank Wentnor, bracket maker, $5,000 by fire and water; Mages & Bolton, picture frames and mountings, damaged by water, $8,000. Loss on building, $15,000. All fully insured. Lieutenant Wall of Engine Company No. 5, was seriously injured by falling from the top of the building.

Chicago Business Record.

CHICAGO, Jan. 1.—The clearings for the year have amounted to $2,527,307,000 as against $1,390,537,000 for 1892. The flour receipts for the year were 4,665,983 barrels, wheat 30,313,065 bushels, corn 7,459,945 bushels, oats 57,900,422, rye 5,060,420 bushels, and barley 10,501,619 bushels. The total receipts of grain and flour were 168,645,000 bushels and the shipments 145,073,568.

An Inate B. Brother.

CHANDLER, O., Jan. 1.—At Thompson, this county, Mr. Hess, a district school teacher, severely punished one of his boy pupils. The boy's big brother went to school and pounded and kicked Hess until he became unconscious, and the school had to close. A constable with the necessary papers is searching for the young man who made the assault, and who has since skipped. Hess is still unconscious.

Too Familiar With His Wife.

DECATUR, Ill., Jan. 1.—Harvey Kinser and William T. Kinser, both of this city, engaged in a violent quarrel, and the former shot the latter through the left breast. The assassin grew out of the intimacy between Harvey and William's wife. Harvey is in jail. William is yet alive, but in a critical condition.

The West Shore.

NEW YORK, Jan. 1.—The West Shore and Buffalo Company has been admitted as a member of the Trunk Line pool and has been awarded twelve per cent of the total tonnage on west-bound business from New York destined to points west of the Trunk Line terminal. The West Shore's participation in the pool begins January first.

Declines to Come Down.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 1.—The Police Board ordered Chief of Police Campbell to give up his sash and walk a beat on the river front. He refused and also declined to give up the keys of his office. He will contest the case in the courts.

Killed By the Cars.

ELGIN, Ill., Jan. 1.—The Elgin accommodation on the Milwaukee and St. Paul road killed two unknown men near Pacific Junction Saturday night. They were aged probably forty-two and twenty years. The remains were sent to Chicago.

A Severe Sentence.

DETROIT, Jan. 1.—George Cobert, who shot at patrolman Griff when the latter was attempting to arrest him several weeks ago, convicted of assault with intent to kill, and sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary.

Shall We Let the Child Die?

A hard-hearted political economist, looking at a pale and puny child feebly gasping as it lies upon a pillow, says that the child might as well die. It is so weak and poor that its life will never be worth much anyhow. There are already a good many people in the world who are of not much account any how. And what's the use of adding to their number another weakling, who has but slender chance of ever amounting to anything?

Now ask that child's mother what she thinks about letting the child die. About this time the hard political economist had better get out of the way. "Let my child die? Not for a moment! At long last there is a remedy to be found that will save that child, the child shall not die! I'll spend my last dollar to save the child!" Well, try a bottle of BROWN'S IRON BITTERS on that child. See the poor little fellow pick up strength. He revives. He will live. Heats of other children have been brought almost from death to healthy life by Brown's Iron Bitters. Your druggist sells it.
